What is the Open for Business Program?

The Open for Business Program aims to support small businesses, nonprofit organizations, and major attractions or entertainment venues impacted by CTA's Red and Purple Modernization (RPM) Phase One Project.

Participants can apply for this program to be included in marketing efforts, including campaigns developed by the CTA. The campaigns will increase the visibility of the local businesses and encourage people to shop, eat, play, and explore in the communities within the RPM project area.

How does it work?

How would Participants be promoted?

Small businesses, nonprofit organizations, and major attractions or entertainment venues may be promoted in one or more of the following ways:

- Traditional advertising (i.e., in-station signage, community and other signage, community newspaper ads)
- Digital marketing (i.e., website banners, digital ads, email, influencers)
- Social media (i.e., Facebook, Twitter, Instagram)
- Directory listing on the consumer-facing website
- Print materials (i.e., brochures, flyers, posters)
- Public meetings
- Public relations

Please note that promotional opportunities through this program vary for each participant, and not all participants will be explicitly featured in marketing campaigns.

Does it cost anything?

Participating in the Open for Business Program is free of charge.

However, it is expected for participants to complete periodic surveys to help measure the success of the program and gather feedback to improve the program and adjust campaigns as needed. The periodic surveys will ask questions about business metrics such as foot traffic, website visitors, social media engagement, etc.

Why is CTA doing this?

While the RPM Phase One Project will significantly benefit the local economy, CTA recognizes that the long-term construction may pose challenges to the small businesses, nonprofits, and major attractions or entertainment venues within the project's footprint and wants to minimize negative impacts. This program is another way that the CTA is addressing construction impacts to communities in the project footprint.

How to apply?

There are three ways to apply:

Online: Complete and submit application at o4bp.submittable.com

Email: Email o4bp@purplegrp.com with the subject 'Open for Business Program Application' to request a PDF application. Complete, sign, scan, and send the application back to the same email address.

Mail: Complete, sign, and mail application to RPM Open for Business Program, C/O Purple Group, 714 S. Dearborn St., Floor 3, Chicago, IL 60605.

Who is eligible to participate?

A business or nonprofit organization is eligible if –

- It is located within one of the RPM Phase One Project areas
- It is a small business, nonprofit organization, major attraction, or entertainment venue
- Its primary function is not to promote, sell, rent, or use any product or service that would be considered "Prohibited Advertising Content" as defined in the CTA Advertising policy
- It completes and submits the application and other requested documentation

Please refer to the Official Rules for more specific eligibility details, including project footprint borders and business and nonprofit definitions.

Dearborn St., Floor 3, Chicago, IL 60605.

B. Program Acceptance

Small businesses, nonprofit organizations, or major attractions or entertainment venues that complete the application and are eligible will be sent a program acceptance letter with a link to provide information (description, category, images, and logos) for inclusion in the program. Failure to provide the requested information may delay inclusion in the marketing components of the program. Acceptance into the program does not guarantee being featured or considered to be featured in marketing campaigns. However, all eligible businesses, nonprofits, or major attractions or entertainment venues that provide the requested information will be included on an applicable business listings page of the consumer-facing website along with an image of the business and a short description.

C. Campaign Consideration

Upon acceptance, small businesses, nonprofit organizations, and major attractions or entertainment venues will be organized into categories. Categorization will be done at the sole discretion of the CTA and its representatives. At launch, the program will include four (4) 'attraction' categories – Shop, Eat, Play, and Explore. If an accepted small business, nonprofit, or major attraction or entertainment venue is not an 'attraction' defined by the categories above, it will be categorized as a 'local service' (i.e., nail salon, convenience store). In most cases, only those categorized as an 'attraction' will be considered for marketing campaign inclusion.

D. Participation is Free

Eligible small businesses, nonprofit organizations, and major attractions or entertainment venues may participate free of charge. Those that are approved to take part in the Open for Business Program will be asked to complete periodic surveys. The survey is intended to measure the success of the program and gain feedback from participants to improve the program and adjust campaigns as needed.

The survey will ask to report on the following:

- Visible foot traffic
- Number of web visitors
- Social media engagement
- Promotions offered
- Rate the program
- Suggest improvements
- Other potential questions

Participation in the surveys is required.

E. Chicago Transit Authority

The CTA has created the Open for Business Program to support small businesses, nonprofit organizations, and major attractions or entertainment venues impacted by the Red and Purple Modernization (RPM) Phase One Project. This program is another way that the CTA is addressing construction impacts. This voluntary program is provided to the small businesses, nonprofits, and major attractions or entertainment venues in the impacted communities. Participation in this program does not guarantee any increase in business to the Participants.

- CTA reserves the right to ask the Program Manager to remove any person or entity, without notice, from the Open for Business Program.
- CTA reserves the right to change, modify, and even cancel the program at any time and without providing any previous notice.

F. Open for Business Program Manager

Purple Group has been designated by the CTA to be the Open for Business Program Manager. The Program Manager is responsible for marketing the Open for Business Program to inform small businesses, nonprofits, and major attractions or entertainment venues of its availability. The Program Manager will also manage and orchestrate all aspects of the program, including application forms, official rules, and corresponding campaigns, strategies, and promotions. Eligible and approved small businesses, nonprofits, and major attractions or entertainment venues will be added to the Open for Business website in the directory section on a first-come, first-served basis, based on when all the requested information is provided to the Program Manager.

G. Participants

Small businesses, nonprofit organizations, and major attractions or entertainment venues that are approved to participate in the program are called Participants. Participants are required to provide information regarding their business or nonprofit to be included in the marketing campaigns, website, and other marketing strategies and tools that may be developed. Failure to provide the requested information, submission of incomplete forms, or submission of inaccurate details may result in the Participant not being included in the program or delayed participation. Participants are expected to:

1. Complete the application form
2. Provide high-resolution images of the business or nonprofit and logos
3. Provide updates on current contacts, emails, social media, and websites used by the business or nonprofit for promotional purposes
4. Work with the Open for Business Program Manager to assemble all the images and content needed if selected to be featured in a marketing campaign. This may include orchestrating an onsite photoshoot during a mutually agreed date and time (at no direct cost to Participant), completing location releases for the photoshoot, and providing other details for the business feature.

5. Give the Open for Business Program Manager and the CTA rights to use the information provided, along with images and other assets submitted to the Program Manager, to be used without limitation in the Open for Business Program or for other CTA purposes. The images, content, and other assets provided by the Participant to the Program Manager may be used in, without limitation, the following ways:

- Traditional Advertising (i.e., in-station signage, community and other signage, community newspaper ads)
- Digital Marketing (i.e., website banners, digital ads, email, influencers)
- Social Media (i.e., Facebook, Instagram, Twitter)
- Directory listing on the consumer-facing website
- Print Materials (i.e., brochures, flyers, posters)
- Public Meetings
- Public Relations

All applications, surveys, information, materials, or data provided by Participants or potential Participants to the CTA or the Open for Business Program Manager will become the property of the CTA and will not be returned. Further, the CTA is subject to the requirements of the Illinois Freedom of Information Act, 5 ILCS 140/1, and such applications, surveys, information, materials, or data may be subject to public disclosure, or be made available to third parties as determined by the CTA or its Open for Business Program Manager.

Please note that promotional opportunities through this program vary for each business and nonprofit organization, and not all businesses or nonprofits will be explicitly featured in marketing campaigns.

H. Hold Harmless

Each Participant is responsible for the accuracy of the information it submits for use in the Open for Business Program. Additionally, each Participant guarantees that it has full rights, including copyright rights, to any materials (i.e., images, graphics, content, artwork) that the Participant submits for use in the Open for Business Program. The Participant hereby releases, defends, indemnifies, and holds harmless the CTA and the Open for Business Program Manager, and each of their representatives, officials, directors, board members, officers and employees, from any claims, losses, damages, suits, liabilities, judgments, costs, and expenses, including legal fees and costs, arising out of infringement of copyrights to images, graphics, content, or artwork or any use of any other information provided by the Participant or potential Participant in connection with the Open for Business Program, or that otherwise accrues as a result of the Participant's connection with the Open for Business Program.
